TO: Mr. Ramil Noche

By Fax to 415-703-4771

Dear Mr. Noche:

This letter is pursuant to your request for clarification of a portion of the labor agreement between SMACNA of San Diego and Sheet Metal Workers International Association, Local Union 206.

Following is the exact language in question: "On commercial work other than that defined as Light Commercial and/or Tenant Improvement Work in Section 1. above, one Technician or Technician Trainee may be employed on each job site. In addition one Technician or Technician Trainee may be employed for each three (3) Building Trades Journeymen, or portion thereof, employed on the site."

The original intent of the parties to the agreement in adopting the Technician classification in previous agreements was that the Technicians would be used only on residential and/or light commercial work. Subsequently, it was decided the Technicians and Technician Trainees could be successfully used in other than Residential and Light Commercial work and that proved to be true. The next question was to determine the number of Technicians and Technician Trainees which could be successfully used on the typical construction project.

The contract language quoted above was the result of labor/management discussion and agreement. The intent of the adopted language was to allow the employer to use one Technician or Technician Trainee on each job site plus one additional Technician or Technician Trainee for every portion of three Building Trades Journeymen employed on the site. Specifically, when a job site has one to three Building Trades Journeymen employed, two Technicians or Technician Trainees may also be employed on that site; when four to six Building Trades Journeymen are employed, three Technicians or Technician Trainees may be employed; when seven to ten Building Trades Journeymen are employed, four Technicians or Technician Trainees may be employed, etc.

I hope this clarifies the intent of the parties to the agreement. If I can be of further assistance, please let me know.

Sincerely,
